I spoke with Randy Evans (that's his cell), who I believe is the GM. Arrival could be tricky, so may it be worth a call ahead of time, as I'm not familiar with the site.

Subject: Re: Administrator Regan and Arnold

Hi Nick,

Arnold doesn't follow the NBA closely so I don't think he will know who Enes is but I am sure he'd be fine with him joining the workout and breakfast if the Administrator would like to include him. Arnold will likely have one of his workout partners on hand and Golds is causal.

Regarding the dinner, I think it might be overkill to do both. I think we should stick with workout and a breakfast for this trip and save the dinner for another time. That's an open invitation. We can also invite anyone to the breakfast that the Administrator would like to include.

Happy to discuss if you'd like. Thank you.

Hi Conyers! Looping in some colleagues here so we're all on the same chain. The Administrator was quite intrigued by the idea of a possible workout with Arnold on the morning of the 18th followed by a breakfast. As discussed, this could take place at the Gold's Gym in Santa Monica. One other point...he has been in touch with Enes Kanter of the Boston Celtics (as of today!) about doing something while we're out there, and we were wondering if it made sense to include him in the workout too. Thoughts on that?

Additionally, I know we talked about a dinner on the 17th. I think he's leaning more inclined toward the workout/breakfast idea, but if Arnold felt strongly about dinner, let us know, and let us know who you'd typically invite to be a part of that?

If you can share initial reactions to this here, perhaps we can get on the phone after that, but wanted to get us all looped in the meantime.

Excited to make something work!
